Variation, Usage & Technical Information - Natural Stone

Variation

Mélange Natural Stone tiles are products of nature and no two tiles will look exactly alike. Please accept the following characteristics, which are intended and part of the product's appeal.

- Variation in color
- Variation in veining
- Appearance of fossils and other inclusions
- Variation in movement of color and grain size
- Slight variation in surface finish

Variation between samples and tiles received is possible, as handmade techniques of glazing make shade and color variation an inherent part of the product. Samples received before shipments should be considered indicative of color only. Driftwood Design Lab will not honor any claims made for these characteristics listed above if claimed as defects.

Notes
Since variations are common in natural stone tile, we recommend final selection be made from an actual tile mock-up. To achieve optimal results in shading, layout and design, tile should be randomly selected from multiple boxes during installation. We recommend a minimum of 10% overage on all orders. Installation constitutes acceptance. We advise retaining control samples to aid in color matching if additional material is required (match not guaranteed). MAINTENANCE - Please see Laticrete MCI-118, routine cleaning can be done with light duty, diluted close to neutral pH detergent cleaner or any non-abrasive cleaning solutions.

Variation, Usage & Technical Information - Terracotta Field/Zellige Field

Variation

Terracotta and Zellige tiles are made entirely by hand, and each piece/sheet will show variation in color and texture. The following characteristics are intended in this product and are part of its overall aesthetic.

- Chips off the surface of the tile, exposing clay underneath
- Uneven edging of the tile
- Wide variation in color and shade
- Lime pops that expose the substrate
- Thickness variation
- Size variation from piece to piece

Variation between samples and tiles received is possible, as handmade techniques of glazing make shade and color variation an inherent part of the product. Samples received before shipments should be considered indicative of color only. Driftwood Design Lab will not honor any claims made for these characteristics listed above if claimed as defects.
